

Formation Training

Flying in close formation by well trained and safety conscious pilots in appropriate aircraft is safe and great fun.

- Ultimate High is widely recognised as THE UK FLYING SCHOOL to learn formation skills. Formation training with us focuses heavily on safety, including efficient breaks & rejoins, formation changes and treatment of emergencies.
- Legally, all that is required to fly in close formation is the prior agreement of the aircraft commanders whilst on the ground. However, we strongly recommend that graduates of our formation training ONLY fly in formation either with other Ultimate High graduates or pilots who have received recognised formal formation training.

Untrained, unpractised, non-current formation flying can be a very rapid route to collision

Formation Course Information:

- Courses take place in the T67M260 Slingsby Firefly and comprise 5 flying hours (4 trips), and a minimum of 5 hours of ground training.
- Courses must be booked as pairs. For logistical reasons we cannot generally match you up with another student, so recommend that you look for a partner via your local airfield or facebook group etc. If a participant drops out at late notice, we will have to cancel the course if no alternative partner is found.
- Formation Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) are provided at the time of booking, so that students can prepare in advance of the course commencing.

Availability

- Courses take 2-3 days and normally start on a Monday/Tuesday, continuing through Wednesday/Thursday. Due to busy schedules and the considerable amount of ground briefing, we are unable to offer weekend training.
